Starting from Dunham street, the trench was taken to a point in front of the Morse property and then at right angles through a lane on the west side of the Morse property. From the end of the lane, a diagonal course across the fields, coming out at a point south of the Fair ground where it crosses the highway and goes over the road. The Falls mill was located on the property from which point the water will be taken from the brook, the pumping station being located on the road property. It was laid with a usual depth, and the trench will be ready before the pipe arrives and is delivered. Only a temporary dam will be used to hold back the water. The trench will be quickly followed by the water and the pipe will be laid to the water and force it into the mains.

Early in life he became a member of the Second Congregational church of this city, his Christian character showed forth in daily life, by courtesy and kindness to all those with whom he was associated. WATER SITUATION GROWS WORSE

Very Little is Now Coming from Fairview—Inefficient Service Because Lake Water Has to be Pumped Through Small Pipe—Work on Trading Cove Project Starts This Morning—State Chemist Looks Over Yantic River—Insurance Men Sent Here.

The continued cold weather caused a decided change for the worse in the water situation on Sunday, and in all sections there was difficulty in getting any city water. Many families who have previously had water at all times were entirely or partially without on Sunday, although in the heart of the city no difficulty was experienced and it was possible to start on the top floor of six-story buildings. This, of course, was due to the location, many of the houses being on the first floor and in the cellar, but none could be drawn on the second floor. The pressure dropped during the day, but called a little during the evening and it is expected that today will be a hard one.

The past very cold days have caused much of the water to freeze in the Fairview and Mohegan lake, with the result that at Fairview the supply is practically exhausted, which makes it necessary to get nearly all the water from Mohegan lake through a six-inch pipe. There is a limit to the amount this pipe line will deliver, in spite of the fact that it is being forced through by pumps and that is the cause for the low pressure Sunday. About half the quantity which the people are used to under the current plan can be forced through the six-inch pipe line. Mohegan lake still has a large quantity of water.

Work will be started this morning digging the trench to Trading Cove brook and it will be hastened through as fast as possible. The pipe will be placed in a trench the entire length of the private land most of the way. By Wednesday it is hoped to have the first of the pipe here and the work of laying it will be started immediately it is delivered.

Under the direction of the water board, the trench was taken to a point in front of the Morse property and then at right angles through a lane on the west side of the Morse property. From the end of the lane, a diagonal course across the fields, coming out at a point south of the Fair ground where it crosses the highway and goes over the road. There was a special meeting of the court of common council called by the mayor to take action on the recommendation of the court of common council relative to the emergency water supply. All were in attendance with the exception of Alderman Wentling and Councilman Geer.

The report of the board of water commissioners was read by Clerk Moore as follows: Resolved, That in order to procure a temporary supply of water for the city of Norwich, the board of water commissioners of said city shall, subject to the approval of the court of common council of said city, proceed to acquire and construct a pumping station and other proper works at or upon Trading Cove brook, at some suitable place above the mouth of Willow brook, and shall, subject to the advice and approval of said court of common council, proceed without unnecessary delay to acquire by purchase or by right of eminent domain, and to take and hold for and in behalf of said city as provided in the chapter of said city, such lands, water, water rights or other property or franchise as may be required for the construction of dams, reservoirs, conduits, pipes, other necessary or proper for conveying or containing water or for laying pipes or conduits to convey the water from said Trading Cove brook in or through the said city, and to do any other act necessary or convenient therefor; and that said board shall make any contracts with the proprietors of any estate, real, personal or mixed, or of any franchise, right or privilege, which may be required for the said purpose and to contract for materials, services, etc., and that this board shall do all other and further acts necessary and proper to secure, construct and maintain for the benefit of the city a supply of water from Trading Cove brook, as aforesaid, under the direction of the court of common council, as provided by the charter of said city.

Alderman Gebrath moved the approval of the recommendation, which Alderman Parker seconded. It was stated by the mayor that the executive committee had a favorable report upon it.

Councilman Woodworth asked for some information on the plan and thought the details should be made public.

Councilman Lang stated that the water board had employed Chandler & Palmer in making the investigation of the water situation. He said he had been at the meeting before the board meeting was held and he believed the board should get the credit of making it and the recommendation. He said he intended to make a temporary pumping station at Trading Cove brook. Everything is prepared and with no delay and the approval of the council it will be put through at once.

Councilman Woodworth wondered if the board had considered what a temporary supply is and what it involves doing away with a permanent supply. He wanted to know how water would be secured and what would be the further supply. He said he would not like to see the permanent supply, as the watershed is not clean and cannot be made clean, but he did not oppose it for a temporary supply.

Councilman Lang said it was intended to install two 600,000 gallon pumps at Trading Cove brook. He said he had this with the two other reservoirs will furnish enough water. He could not say what the board would do about a permanent supply.

The recommendation was adopted and the session adjourned in about eight minutes.

FORTIFICATION OF LONG ISLAND SOUND.

More Guns Are Needed There as Well as at Chesapeake Bay, Says Secretary of War.

Mr. Dickinson, the secretary of war, in his annual report strongly indorses the fortification of the Long Island Sound. He said he had a recommendation to congress for an appropriation to provide the signal corps with a reasonable number of the better type of machine gun for instruction purposes and field work.

The secretary calls attention to the fact that the entrance to Chesapeake Bay, one of the most important points strategically on the Atlantic seaboard, is wholly unfortified, not a single gun being mounted to defend the channel between Cape Charles and Cape Henry. At another important point—the eastern entrance to Long Island sound—additional guns are needed. Except for the batteries so far as guns alone are concerned, the seaward defenses at all home ports are in a very satisfactory state, but much remains to be done in providing such auxiliaries as searchlights and in developing the fire control system, which will require about $1,500,000.

MONTVILLE GRANGE.

Organization Completed and Officers Elected for Ensuing Year.

The organization of a subordinate grange in Montville was completed Friday night as a meeting held in Palmer Memorial hall. Deputy C. E. Staples of Colchester directed the work. The grange has a charter membership of about thirty of whom three were obligated at this meeting. The grange has also received its official number and will be known as Montville grange.

WONDERED WHY

Found the Answer Was "Coffee."

Many pale, sickly persons wonder for years why they have to suffer so, and eventually discover that the drug—coffee—in coffee is the main cause of their troubles.

"I was always very fond of coffee and drank it every day. I never had much sleep and often wondered why I was so pale and thin and weak."

"About six years ago my health completely broke down and I was confined to my bed. My stomach was so weak that I could hardly sustain life. During this time I was drinking coffee, didn't think I could do without it."

"After awhile I came to the conclusion that coffee was hurting me, and I decided to give it up. I tried tea, but I didn't like the taste of it at first, but when it was made right—bottled without dark and rich—I soon became very fond of it."

"In one week I began to feel better. I could eat more and sleep better. My sick headaches were less frequent and within five months I looked and felt like a new being; headache spells entirely gone."

"My health continued to improve and today I am well and strong. I weigh 168 pounds. I attribute my health to the life-giving qualities of the pure, bottled coffee."

Read "The Road to Wellville," in p. 68. "There's a Reason."

Five Dollars a Box

The Price Cut No Figure With Him.

"I want to say for the benefit of some poor dyspeptic that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will give comfort and a cure every time. Five dollars a box would not stop my purchasing them should I ever suffer again, as I did for a week before using them."

"The one 50 cent box I bought at my druggist did the work and my digestion is all right again."

"Many of my neighbors have also tried these tablets and found them to be just as represented, and Mr. Ellins has sent me to use his farm in endorsing Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets."

(Signed) A. Elliot and Chas. F. Boxwell.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mrs. Jas. Barton of Toronto, Canada, writes: "For eighteen months I suffered from what I supposed was bladder and kidney trouble, and took medicine from three different doctors, without any sign of cure. I felt so ill at last I was hardly able to do my work."

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never realizing that I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared, and then I discovered I had acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble, and one of them treated me for rheumatism."

"My digestion is fine, my complexion clear, and I am able to do my work and low spirits are unknown to me. I am thankful for finding a cure so good and so pleasant to take as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am surprised at the change they have made in me."

All druggists sell and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they contain only the simple natural digestive, and taken after meals prevent acidity and cause prompt digestion and assimilation of food.

Physicians everywhere endorse them because they are safe for the child as well as the adult, are invaluable for sour stomach, nervous dyspepsia, heartburn, gas on stomach and bowels and every form of stomach derangement.

No. 718. It was voted to hold regular meetings on the second and fourth Friday evenings in each month. The grant of the year has just terminated. It became necessary to select officers, although the first election was held but a short time ago. All the first elected officers, as assistants, were re-elected. The secretary, J. Lawrence Raymond, taking the place of Robert C. Bonnard, who cannot spare the time. The worthy master is Clyde N. Beane of Uxbridge, who by virtue of his office represents the grange at the annual meeting of the state grange in Hartford in January.

COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Motion List Business Will Be Heard Here Today—Decisions Given.

There will be motion list business before the court of common pleas in this city today. On Saturday the case of the Frisco company vs. New York vs. the Norwich Belt Mfg. Co. was heard. The local company brought suit in the matter before F. H. Brown, J. P., and got judgment that their claim was on an appeal. The matter arose over a bill of goods sent to a Watertown, N. Y., firm by the local company for the plaintiff, and they proved more than wanted. They were sent to the Frisco company, which sent them to the plaintiff, and they never received, and later the railroad company sold them for $12. The amount in dispute is about $100. Judge Walker has decided these cases.

In the case of Michael P. Falvey vs. the Stevens and in the case of T. H. Wilson vs. Connecticut company, the demurrers are overruled.

In the case of Frank Campbell of Jewett City vs. Mrs. Sarah Melness of this city, judgment is for the latter. It was a suit for $200 for doing errands by Mr.
